

LiteraryGlobal.com Announces Winners of the 2025 Literary Global Book Awards

*Top Honors Awarded to The Seer and Child X as Book of the Year Winners*

NEW YORK CITY, NY, UNITED STATES, December 21, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- LiteraryGlobal.com has announced the winners of the 2025 Literary Global Book Awards, recognizing outstanding achievement in fiction, non-fiction, and a wide range of literary categories from authors around the world.

The annual awards celebrate excellence, originality, and impact in contemporary publishing. This year's competition attracted submissions from independent authors, small presses, and established publishers, highlighting the strength and diversity of today's global literary community.

Following an extensive review process, two titles were selected for the program's highest honor—Book of the Year.

2025 Book of the Year Winners

Book of the Year – Fiction

Winner: The Seer

Author: Raquel Y. Levitt

Publisher: Acorn Publishing, LLC

Book of the Year – Non-Fiction

Winner: Child X

Author: Jamie Mustard

Publisher: BenBella Books

"These were the kinds of books that stayed with us," said the Director of Literary Global. "They sparked conversation, raised questions, and kept coming up again and again during judging. The Seer and Child X didn't just impress us—they resonated."

In addition to the Book of the Year honorees, Literary Global recognized category winners and finalists across multiple genres. A full list of 2025 category winners and finalists can be viewed at LiteraryGlobal.com, where readers and industry professionals are encouraged to explore this year's honored titles.

"What stands out every year is the range of voices," the Director added. "You see bold debuts, deeply personal stories, and books that take real risks. That's what makes this competition special."

Supporting Authors Beyond the Awards

Beyond its annual awards program, Literary Global continues to support authors through its Literary Global Book Review Service, which provides professionally written, editorial-quality reviews designed to help authors build credibility and visibility.

"An award is a great moment—but it shouldn't be the end of the road," said the Director. "Our goal is to help authors use that momentum in meaningful ways, whether that's through reviews, promotion, or simply helping the right readers discover their work."

Looking Ahead: 2026 Literary Global Competitions

2026 Literary Global Children's Book Awards

The Literary Global Children's Book Awards are among the most inclusive international competitions dedicated to children's literature. Authors who enter a single category are automatically considered for both category honors and the prestigious Children's Book of the Year award.

Deadline to Enter: April 27, 2026

Results Announced: May 18, 2026

2026 Independent Author Awards

The Independent Author Awards provide a global platform for independently published and self-published authors across a wide range of genres, offering increased visibility and recognition.

Deadline to Enter: April 19, 2026

Results Announced: May 2026

"We want authors to feel welcome here," the Director said. "No matter how a book is published, if it's strong, thoughtful, and well-crafted, it deserves to be recognized."

LiteraryGlobal.com also released the full list of 2025 category winners spanning Business, Children's, Fiction, Health, Nonfiction, Parenting & Family, Poetry, and True Crime. Highlights include Business and Management honors for Lawrence R. Armstrong's Layered Leadership, the Fiction Debut and Mystery/Suspense win for Sandra K. Griffith's One Beautiful Year of Normal, and multiple standout wins across children's literature—including Pamela Gray Willcox's Tux the Little Emperor and N.
